

Teacher:

In order to establish context for your students, be sure to read them the book, We Mix Up Our ABCs by Aaron Wills before offering them this activity.

Cut out the blue shapes for students to place on the blue alphabet mat.
If desired, laminate first, then attach hook and loop fasteners after cutting.

Allow students to place the shapes on the mat in a mixed-up order, then sing their silly song together!
Students will enjoy designing their own alphabet song and the sound-alike structure will provide them an additional auditory cue to help them with letter identification as they sing. Have fun!
